Irving, Texas—March 21, 2007—Thomas Group, Inc. (NasdaqGM: TGIS), a leading process improvement firm, unveiled a new state-of-the-art Web site today. Thomas Group worked with Dallas-based Imaginuity Interactive, Inc. to design a new site with a fresh look and layout, making it more user-friendly and informative.

The primary mission of the Web site redesign is to underscore Thomas Group's commitment to core business values and showcase their rich history of delivering client-valued results through knowledge leadership and know-how while focusing on innovation, growth, and evolution. The strategic focus for Thomas Group remains unchanged—executing and implementing cultural change management, operation strategies, and process improvements to produce superior operational and financial performance for their clients.

By adopting a new tagline "Breakthrough Process Performance," Thomas Group captures the essence of who we are—experienced, innovative and delivering client results in a speed driven way that delivers economic value. The unique Flash animation of the company's results and its methodology supports a Web presence that transfers its powerful credentials into a world class online brand.

"Our goal is to provide a more robust, user-friendly, and informative site where our customers and visitors gain an added understanding of who we are and what type of solutions might meet their pressing needs and wants," says Thomas Group's CEO and president Jim Taylor. He added, "We're excited to be showing the new face of Thomas Group with a look that reflects the results of a company delivering everyday value to its customers, by meeting their needs today and tomorrow."
