Thomas Group Wins Implementation of Operational Excellence Program from Global Manufacturer

IRVING, TEXAS — November 16, 2007—Thomas Group, Inc. (NasdaqGM: TGIS), a leading operational consulting firm, announced today that it has won a contract from a global manufacturer to create and implement operational strategies for sustained performance improvements in all facets of the business enterprise. The major thrust of the engagement will be to improve operations, reduce the cost of goods sold, and ensure quality and service performance. Thomas Group estimates the value of the program order, which is a one-year period, to be approximately $2.2 million with an additional $0.9 million of incentives conditional on achieving specific operational benchmarks. Thomas Group will deploy operational performance experts from Germany, Switzerland, England, and the United States. The company's work will support a larger strategic plan already underway. The anticipated results include:

- Driving higher profitability to improve EBITDA
- Providing capacity for revenue growth
- Improving productivity and quality of service
- Reducing waste and increasing product quality
- Establishing Global Best Practice processes
- Implementing a sustainable culture of innovation and quality

To achieve these results, Thomas Group will use a holistic, process-based approach to manage and focus the resources and activities of an organization to optimize overall performance across the organization's value chain. It is based upon an inclusive, end-to-end, integrated view of all related activities, considering all process stakeholders, including suppliers and customers. Thomas Group will define and drive with the client: culture innovation, process improvement, transparency across all related activities, and elimination of non-value added activities. Thomas Group's process inspires people to want to change, identifies what needs to change, gives them the necessary tools to make the change, implements the change, and institutionalizes the change to result in continuous improvement in performance excellence.

"This award underscores our client's confidence in Thomas Groups' proven leadership in operational excellence," said Jim Taylor, CEO and president of Thomas Group.
